

Art is not just about telling a story, it's about sharing a story. Often times these stories have different meanings and perspectives depending on the community it is told from. Even though different points of view can create conflict, with tolerance it also creates a better world. To preserve authentic artistry, one must also preserve communities.