Do you like soda? I know I do, and soda commercials like this one make me wish I had a bottle of soda in my hand right now!

But this news cast makes me feel very different. It tells the viewers what soda does to you. There is lot of added sugar, it lowers good cholesterol, and raises the risk of heart disease. It tells you the truth about soda, even if it's not so pretty.

The commercial shows people having fun with soda, it wants to make viewers believe that they can have lots of fun if they buy soda, they do this because they want the viewers to buy soda.

Do you know that soda is made of water with added sugar and flavoring? It is not good for you!

If you drink 2 bottles of soda each day, you can gain one pound a week, in a year you will gain over 50 pounds!

Soda also raises your glucose level, a bottle of soda has 16 teaspoons of soda, an average person is only supposed to have 6 teaspoons a day!

Even though soda is so unhealthy, the commercial makes you think it like it will make your whole world light up if you drink one sip.

So next time you want to take a big sip of this sugary soda, remember what it will do to your body and how unhealthy it is.
