

National Coalition for Core Arts Standards Copyright Information

EDUCATIONAL USE

As revised December 12, 2016

- a. State Education Agencies Directors of Arts Education (SEADAE) and SEADAE member states have unrestricted rights to copy, duplicate, reproduce or distribute intellectual property to meet their needs serving as State Directors of Arts Education.
- b. The Departments of Education or equivalent entities in each of the United States, territories or the District of Columbia who create state standards have unrestricted rights to copy, duplicate, reproduce or distribute “The Standards” in pursuance of the public, non-profit mission of those Departments of Education to provide education through the public schools. Furthermore, the Departments of Education or equivalent entities in each of the United States, territories or the District of Columbia, who base their state standards in whole or in part on the National Core Arts Standards, as well as other derivative works, are encouraged to acknowledge NCCAS through the following language:

Portions of this work are based on the National Core Arts Standards
(Copyright © 2015 National Coalition for Core Arts Standards/All Rights Reserved - Rights Administered by SEADAE.)
- c. Arts Educators teaching in any art discipline (dance, media arts, music, theatre, and visual arts) and teachers in public and private education (PreK-12, higher education, educational outreach centers of performing arts organizations, and community/cultural arts centers) may duplicate the standards as they appear on the NCCAS website without having to request permission from SEADAE.

COPYRIGHT PERMISSION REQUESTS & GUIDELINES FOR OTHER USES

Revised September 9, 2016

The following guidelines apply to all commercial or non-commercial entities seeking to duplicate, distribute, disseminate (electronically or otherwise), or make derivative works from the NCCAS National Core Arts Standards that may result in formal or informal publications, electronic tools or works (books, articles, newspapers, and journals), or for use in professional development and training, not exempted by educational use above. These revised guidelines apply to all licensing requests or inquires processed on or after September 9, 2016.

A copyright license and written permission from the State Education Agency Directors of Arts Education (SEADAE) is required whenever copyrighted material, beyond that destined for educational use as above, is duplicated or disseminated, electronically or otherwise. Permission to reprint is not official until SEADAE and the entity requesting permission have signed the Application for Copyright Permission, and payment is submitted. Permission requests are subject to a processing fee of $25.
