

Students who participated in this project also collaborated and brainstormed ideas for creating a narrative to explain what they did to create the artwork. They came together as a group and using a Bubble Map came up with some words and phrases.

Narrative collaboration:

We studied about Contemporary Art. We learned about many different artists. Some of us created flow maps and thumb nails to help with organizing our ideas. We looked in the classroom Contemporary Visual binders for inspiration. We also used our imagination and used the iPad as a resource. We also watched videos about the artists.

Creating the work was fun and felt like we were letting out some of our emotions. It felt creative, energetic, and free spirited. The art was different, fantastic, strange, colorful, beautiful, interesting and awesome!

The finished artwork looks nice, innovative and we learned about perspective and a lot more. We hope you enjoy the exhibit.
